Prof. AMAL MATTU

Dr. Amal Mattu has had a passion for teaching and writing about emergency cardiology since he joined the faculty at the University of Maryland School of Medicine in 1996.

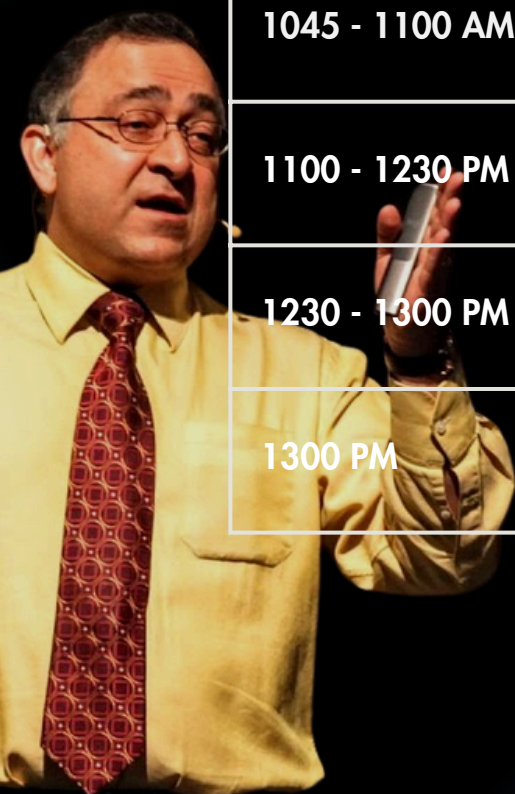

He has authored or edited more than 30 textbooks in emergency medicine, including 11 focused on emergency cardiology and electrocardiography. He is the only emergency physician to be invited to serve as primary Guest Editor for Cardiology Clinics three times.

He has lectured in 31 countries spanning six continents on emergency cardiology topics, and he has helped to create and direct multiple conferences, podcasts, and videocasts focused on this area. His weekly video blog (www.ECGWeekly.com) trains more than 25,000 clinicians around the world in higher-level ECG skills. In total, he has provided over 3000 hours of CME, and he has received more than 20 teaching awards for his efforts. Dr. Mattu is currently a tenured Professor, Vice Chair of Academic Affairs, and Co-Director of the Emergency Cardiology Fellowship for the Department of Emergency Medicine at the University of Maryland School of Medicine.
